Utah Learning Center Enrollment Form
--------------------------------------	--

Introduction

WELCOME!

The Utah Learning Center is a consortium of programs developed in partnership with the Utah National Guard, the Department of Defense, and the various other programs within the Defense Language Enterprise.

Training seats are open to all members of the Department of Defense based on availability. The courses are managed by the 300th MIB (Ling) CLPM Team with coordination with our training partners. Course schedules are subject to change based on instructor availability and funding.

PROGRAM DESIGN AND METHODOLOGY

The Utah Learning Center (UTLC) delivers comprehensive language and culture training through a collaborative network, including partnerships with leading defense language providers. This approach ensures access to world-class instruction and a robust, varied learning experience.

Our training system takes a multi-dimensional approach to language development. Each course provides opportunities to develop language skills across all modalities, with a focused emphasis on productive skills – speaking and writing – to foster sustainable gains in interpretive skills – listening and reading – and overall language proficiency.

This program develops functional language skills, including translation, interpretation, and intercultural communication, to cultivate well-rounded language professionals.

A core tenet of our program is the development of cultural understanding through the target language. Training integrates authentic materials and relevant technologies, enabling students to immerse themselves in the language and culture. Each course equips students with the tools and resources necessary to continue their individual language training plans following course completion.

This catalog details available programs and provides program managers with the information required to enroll linguists in relevant training opportunities.

Coordinating Instructions

ADMINISTRATIVE

Course instructors are in charge of all administrative duties related to the conduct and structure of their course. A course instructor may elect a class leader to support them in maintaining accountability.

The selection of a class leader is based entirely on the requirements of the instructor and not on basis of rank or time in service unless otherwise determined by the instructor. Daily and weekly attendance and participation summary reports will be kept and submitted along with an individual evaluation report on each student attending the class.

A welcome letter will be sent at least one week prior to the course start date with specific course information regarding reporting times/location and pre-course requirements.

UNIFORM

Students are authorized to wear appropriate civilian attire to class each day. Students must adhere to AR 670-1: "civilian clothing will be of the same comparable degree of formality as the uniform prescribed for such duty. Standards of dress and appearance will be conservative and meet the same high standards established for personnel in uniform."

TRAVEL GUIDANCE

Travel Guidance varies based on training location, provider, and the home of record for the student attending the training. Links for travel guidance for each course can be found on pages 14-23 in this catalog.

Travel allowance is not authorized for Soldiers living within local commuting distance.

The National Guard traces its roots to Dec. 13, 1636, when the first militia was formed in Massachusetts to protect the colonies. These citizens were then known as “Minuteman” for their rapid response to community threats, later distinguishing themselves in the Revolutionary war.

The Utah National Guard was officially organized on March, 26, 1984 with its headquarters in Salt Lake City, the capital of the Territory of Utah. Nearly 1,400 Utah Guard members were involved in World War I with many members seeing action with active-duty Army units. In 1941, all Utah Guard units were called to active duty as fighting escalated both in Europe and in the Pacific. By 1942, about 2,600 Utah Guard members had seen action in World War II.

The Utah Air National Guard was founded on November 18, 1946, with the federal recognition of the 191st Fighter Squadron at Salt Lake City Municipal Airport. Fighter pilots flew the new Air Guard's P-51 Mustangs. Some 3,080 Guard members, representing all of the Air Guard and 62 percent of the Army Guard, were activated over the course of the Korean War, from 1951 to 1953. In 1965, the Utah National Guard was put on alert for mobilization to Vietnam. No Army Guard units were ever activated, but some Guard members volunteered for duty in Vietnam.

Utah Air Guard crews were among the first to volunteer for airlift support of the U.S. military buildup in Saudi Arabia after Iraq invaded Kuwait in 1990. Six Utah Army Guard units were activated for duty in Operation Desert Shield/Desert Storm. In 1992, the Utah National Guard's 23rd Army Band was one of the first U.S. military organizations to visit post-Soviet Russia, accepting an invitation to perform in St. Petersburg. They were invited into military installations no American soldier had ever visited before.

Since September 11, 2001, over 17,000 Utah Guard members have been activated and deployed for worldwide duty to include Operation Noble Eagle, Operation Enduring Freedom, Operation Iraqi Freedom, Operation Joint Forge, and Operation New Dawn.

The 2002 Winter Olympics brought approximately 2,400 athletes from over 80 countries and thousands of spectators to Utah. The mission of law enforcement augmentation fell to the Utah National Guard. Over 2,000 guard members from 24 states came to Salt Lake City to join more than 2,500 Utah Guard members to provide security for the Games. At that time, more soldiers were deployed in support of the 2002 Winter Olympics than any other military operation in the world.
